Dear Parents/Guardians:

Please find a list of rules attached. These were established to ensure that everyone enjoys their experience with the Lutz Nature Camp.

Our staff will take the following steps should any participant violate any of these rules.

1. Verbal warning by counselor or volunteer.
2. Removal from group or activity.
3. Note sent home describing the incident.
4. If a participant repeatedly refuses to follow the workshop rules, a meeting will be scheduled between parents, summer camp coordinator, and program management. We will discuss options to remedy the situation and what action may be taken for further incidents (including removal from the series).

Thank you for your understanding. Please do not hesitate to ask if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Michelle Deering Summer Program Coordinator p: (860) 643-0949 frontdesk@lutzmuseum.org

Lutz Children's Museum Camp Rules

Your safety and well being is our top priority. In order to maintain an atmosphere which is conducive to learning, we expect that all series participants will:

1. Be courteous and show respect to all staff members, visitors, and other students.
2. Keep hands and feet to yourself at all times. "Play fighting" is unacceptable and will be treated as fighting.
3. Pay attention and follow workshop rules throughout the day.
4. Respect museum property and property of others, including helping to keep the nature center, common areas, bathrooms, and nature trails neat and clean.
5. Behave in a way that does not distract others from learning.
6. Accept responsibility for your own actions.

Any assault upon peers or a staff member, unwanted touching toward a workshop participant or staff, or possession of a weapon or drugs by a child will result in immediate suspension or expulsion without a refund.

I have read the camp rules with my child and I understand the steps to be taken in case of a violation.
